

Friendship

Sails help to power a ship and keep it sailing. When you are having problems with your friends, who can help you?
How might they help you?

The hull of a ship is watertight, this keeps everyone dry and happy.
What kind of things do your friends do that make you happy?
How do your friendships make you feel?

Big waves and choppy water can rock a ship and make it difficult to sail.
What type of things can rock your friendships? Why might these things happen?
